

Week One-Whirlwind Week includes Training, Work and a Bit of Fun

Evan Thomas - Florida International University

The summer associate program has finally begun. Our week started with meeting the attorneys at the Orlando office and receiving a ton of training. It was a little overwhelming but that was to be expected.

By Thursday, Jordan and I were down at the Miami office. We spent the first day touring the office and meeting the attorneys. The highlight of Thursday was getting the chance to sit in partner Scott Sarason's office and watch him prepare an expert witness for an upcoming deposition. After Scott finished preparing the witness, Jordan and I had the chance to ask him a few questions about the case.

I blinked and the first week was already over. On top of observing Scott prepare a witness, I also had the chance to sit in on a hearing, begin working on a motion, and attend a firm happy hour. The firm happy hour was great because it allowed me to spend some time getting to know the people that I will work with all summer long.
